

Black Ice AWARENESS STATEMENT

Current Situation Potential for Black Ice

The National Weather Service in Peachtree City is forecasting a line of severe weather with a rush of cold air that will enter Georgia from the west late this evening through the early morning hours. Temperatures west of approximately Albany to Thomaston to Athens line will drop below freezing between midnight and sunrise. Any moisture remaining on roads from tonight's thunderstorms has the possibility to freeze in these areas during the early morning hours of Tuesday.

ANTICIPATED IMPACTS

Main Threats:

- Black Ice

Timing:

- Rain should end for our area between 9:00 – 10:00 pm.
- Temperatures are forecast to drop below freezing between 2:00 – 3:00 am Tuesday

